

eSignatures and retail

Signable

Why retail needs eSigning...

Every day eSignatures are becoming more and more recognisable. However, the uptake within retail has been slower compared to most. Perhaps because it's less obvious to retailers how they are a benefit to business? Which means there's a chance to seriously up efficiency...

Here's how our customers in retail are already using eSignatures...

With eSignatures you can have these forms finished in minutes:

- Recruitment contracts
- Application forms
- Supplier forms
- Concession documents

So, how do eSignatures help?

- Sign off swiftly!

eSigning reduces turn around time massively, around 80% quicker on average.

This means any documents, that need signing from an operational perspective, can be completed and returned the same day.

Allowing you to turn your focus away from the admin side, and on improving customer satisfaction.

- Protect your data

Security is important for every business. And as HR is a big focus for retail's eSignature use, it's especially important to keep staff's personal or potentially sensitive information private. eSignatures are hugely secure when it comes to storing your documents, as we take security very seriously.

- Cut costs

Reducing costs is a responsibility that's always in the front of a manager's mind. By adopting eSignatures you ensure that financial resources are being best utilised. Avoiding printing and postage bills and not forgetting any admin time spent chasing agreements or contracts.

- Don't let processes fall behind

By managing your finished documents, along with ones in-progress at the click of a button, you will increase your efficiency and organisation.

All the while reducing paper consumption within your business. This reduces costs and keeps all your work searchable.

We're already helping these companies:

"Signable's Customer Success team have been incredible with the implementation of Signable at The Body Shop in the Benelux. Sue in particular has been patient and super helpful and I would recommend anyone to go and work with the Signable team".
